GOVERNOR STRAW POLL WINNER ANDRZEJEWSKI RECEIVES ANOTHER BOOST FROM RADIO/TV CAMPAIGN

Illinois – Riding the momentum of his recent straw poll victory, gubernatorial candidate Adam Andrzejewski announced the launch of a new radio and television ad campaign that began today.

Recently produced radio and television spots describe Andrzejewski's reform-based message as having grown from his small-town upbringing, principled values, and ability as a successful, job-creating businessman.

Highlighting the radio spot is the voice of Bill Rancic, remembered for his victory on Donald Trump's The Apprentice during its inaugural season. In the spot, Rancic and other friends and supporters, tout Andrzejewski as the champion for Illinois taxpayers, and a candidate who will end corruption and begin bringing more jobs to Illinois.

"That is why I am running – to change the political culture in Springfield with real Republican reform. Only an employer with a record of job creation and no political baggage can end the corruption that is plaguing our state government," notes Andrzejewski.

The 60-second radio spot will run on WBBM – 780 AM, while the 30-second television commercial will appear on Fox News during the Glenn Beck, Sean Hannity and Bill O'Reilly shows.

Andrzejewski, who was the first GOP candidate to enter the Governor's race, was declared the winner of the United Republican Fund (URF)/WIND 560 AM Republican Straw Poll, conducted this month following a Republican Gubernatorial Forum at Carlucci's in Downers Grove. The Forum, which consisted of more than 100 conservative activists, featured all six Republican candidates who have formally entered Illinois' 2010 race for Governor.
